A Touch Of New Orleans SYBIL GAGE

<http://brevardlive.com/index.php?module=uploads&func=download&fileid=139>

She sings soulful jazz like the greats, Dinah, Eartha, Billy, check. Nobody does what she does and that's a valuable commodity in a time of cookie cutter art. Culture starving? Get fed at Heidi's on a Tuesday night or sit back on a Saturday night in front of your radio with a glass of wine. I recommend the "Red," and let Sybil "Miss Feathers" Gage seuth your soul for a little while. You won't regret it. I promise.

FRATURA EXPOSTA: RIGHT FROM NEW ORLEANS: SYBIL

<http://shasca.blogspot.com/2010/03/right-from-new-orleans-sybil.html>

Cada vez mais, sinto que quero conhecer NEW ORLEANS, sua música e seu povo. Tenho a impressão de que será como o ambiente musical da BAHIA que conheci nos anos 70, ainda sem a praga do AXÉ MUSIC, SANGALO e assemelhados.

Via twitter, tenho feito contato com músicos e cantores da terra do jazz & coisa e tal. Minha descoberta mais recente é SYBIL GAGE. Ouça esta guria.

Local radio station WMEL-AM (1300) will soon be blessed with the "Hardest Working Woman in Show Business" when local jazz great Sybil Gage returns to the airwaves with "The Stormy Monday Show," debuting Saturday. Gage, who grew up in New Orleans around a vibrant music scene, has long been regarded as one of the area's top musical talents. She was named Space Coast Living magazine's "Best Musician in Brevard County" and earned the No. 6 spot on the "100 Greatest Things About Brevard County" in the June 2008 issue.

Gage was first labeled a hard worker thanks to her exhausting schedule that frequently includes performances six nights a week. I spoke with Gage about her new radio show, her forthcoming CD and her unique musical background. So let's Shake, Rattle & Know: Sybil Gage...

Sybil Gage is an authentic, refreshing, and much needed talent in today's music world. Her voice takes you to a place that creates a reminiscing joy of what your grandma used to play the 'record player.'
